

Photo by Doug Bush

Doug Bush Strikes Again!

The twisted mind behind Demon Messenger is at it again, coming at us with a veritable gushing artery of film ideas. Bush's next production is House on Ghost Hill Road, which will begin filming early next year. But pictured above are Kendra Baker (left) and Jessiy Dickinson who are part of yet another script tentatively titled Dr. K about a female serial killer. This picture and more are viewable in Bush's studio at Jungle Science, 33 Court Street in Binghamton, beginning December 7th.

University Nightlife won the third-place prize at last month's Startup Weekend Binghamton. The app launches January 24th. See story on page 7.

Photo by Sharina Robbins

Does this place in the Cayman Islands look like it can house 19,000 corporations? It can if you want to avoid taxes. Even billionaires want free money! But its days are numbered; there's a Popeye missile with Ugland House's name on it. See story on page 2

Meet Your
Police
Gazette
Staff!

Current-Affairs Editor William Potter keeps the content moving at National Police Gazette FB, the Gazette's Facebook presence. He's also the oracle from which the monthly Police Gazette horoscope emerges.